

Britten celebrations

Gresham's celebrated the centenary of its former pupil, the composer Benjamin Britten, at a black-tie dinner held in Big School. Director of music (prep), Nathan Waring welcomed guest speakers, Professor Robert Saxton, professor of composition at Oxford University, and broadcaster, singer and writer Nigel Douglas. Tom Appleton, Old Greshamian and member of the Monteverdi Choir performed for guests, accompanied by Mark Jones, director of music (senior) on Gresham's new Steinway grand piano.

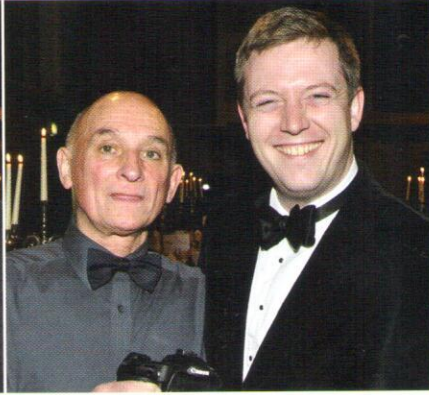

Nathan Waring, Lyne Roberts, Mike Strong

Darren Harris

Katharine Harris, Mark Jones

Rodney Smith, Tom Appleton

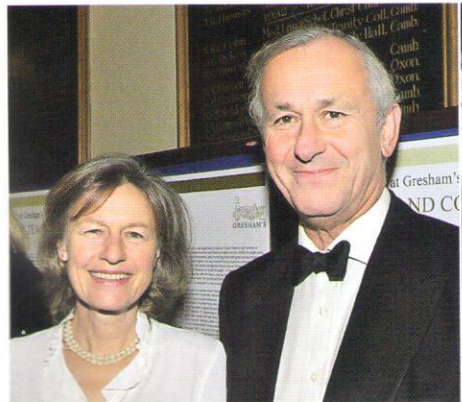

Teresa Cahill, Robert Saxton

John Smart, Nigel Flower

Jack and Christine Welham

Andrew and Jenny Martin-Smith

John and Jean Arkell

Keith and Angela Dugdale

Colin and Liz Larby, Carolyn Thomas

Clare Stevens

Sue Smart, Julie Flower

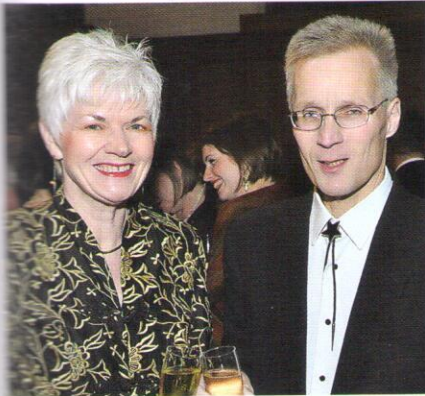

Ellie and Helen Appleton

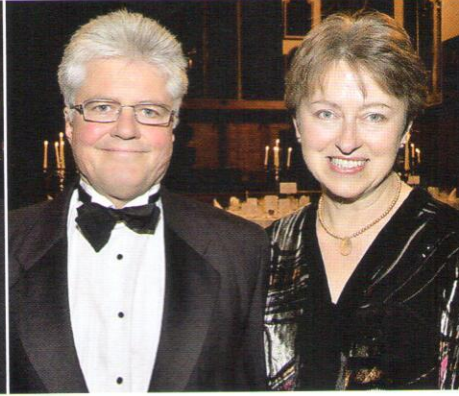

Roanna Stromberg-Smith, James McLeod

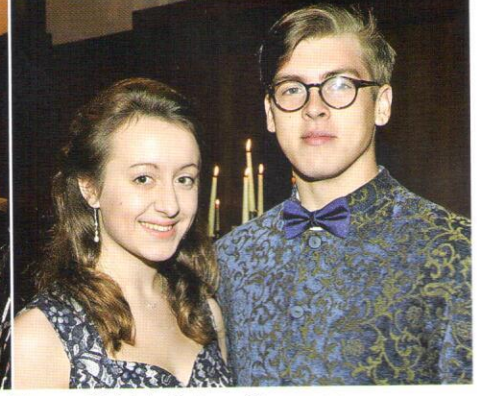

Michelle and Iain Wolfe

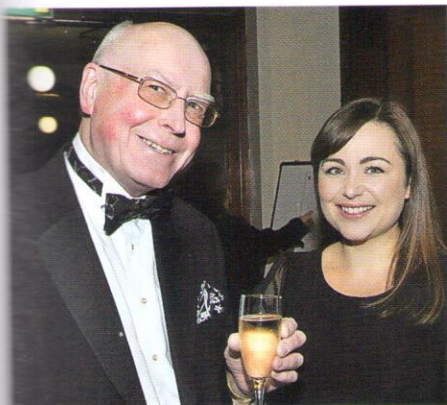

Moira and Hugh Aldersy-Williams

Oliver and Wendy Hendrie

Emma Wright, Callum Chapman

Bob Cumber, Rebecca Waring

Nigel and Lexi Douglas

Mary Lincoln, Tony Britten